

Williamsburg Trails

The Town of Williamsburg offers five hiking trails, including:

- Big View Trail is a short and steep woodland trail that runs up to the crest of a
- 1,000-foot ridgeline and involves a single loop, starting and ending at Unquomonk Road.
- Bradley Sanctuary is a 41-acre parcel of land with approximately 2 miles of trails and paths located on Old Goshen Road, where a hilltop pine grove features a towering stand of white pine.
- Breckenridge Sanctuary offers a one-mile loop trail on 67 acres that crosses Blake Brook. A spur off the end of the loop runs along the West Branch of the Mill River, a popular fishing area.
- Briar Hill Conservation Area Trail is located on 50 acres on the northeast side of Briar Hill Road. This trail reaches a hilltop overlooking the East Branch of the Mill River and the Conway State Forest.
- Hall Conservation Area & O'Neil Hill Trails includes 17 acres and a trail connecting to two Mass Audubon properties to the south for a total of 2.5 miles.
